

JEAN MONNET
CHAIR IN EU
MONEY LAW (2018
– 2021)

Jean Monnet Chair in “EU Money Law” (EUMOL) aims to set up a new teaching in the field of law of money at the University of Siena, moving from the interesting achievements of Jean Monnet Module on “Building up a Payment System for the European Union” (2013 – 2016). It provides for teaching and research activities, addressed to academic and student university community, local stakeholders, national and European regulatory officers.

The EUMOL Jean Monnet Chair investigates the European harmonisation process for payments not only as a way of improving the functioning of the internal market but also as a means of community belonging. It depends on the trade-off between binding and soft rules, institutional actions and self-regulatory standards, but it also depends on the European regulatory initiatives for fintech applications.

The first two virtual meetings provide us with the general picture, featured by the digital transformation process, on the one side, and the covid-19 emergency, on the other: different variables to be managed with a view to pursuing economic and financial inclusion, as well as regional cohesion.

5th November, 11.00 a.m. – 1.00 p.m. (CET).

Digital Transformation and Financial Inclusion

Xenia Karametaxas, Ph.D., Postdoctoral Researcher and Lecturer, Chair of Law and Finance, University of Zürich

6th November, 3.00 – 5.00 p.m. (CET).

A Tale of Two Crises: The Great Financial Crisis of 2007-08 and the Covid-19 triggered crisis of 2020

Rodrigo Olivares-Caminal, Ph.D., Professor of Banking and Finance Law, Centre for Commercial Law Studies, Queen Mary University of London

With the support of the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union

2020 WINTER SCHOOL is also the right context to talk about three interesting research monographs and meeting their Authors.

13th November, 11.00 a.m. – 1.00 p.m. (CET)

Book Launch.
Meeting the Author:

Andreas
Rahmatian,
*Ph.D. Professor of Commercial
Law, University of Glasgow*

13th November, 3.00 – 5.00 p.m. (CET)

Book Launch.
Meeting the Author:

Christos
Gortsos, Ph.D.
*Professor of Public
Economic Law,
Law School,
National Kapodistrian
University of Athens.*

The webinars are open to the general public and the registration is free of charges. Please, send an email to gabriella.gimigliano@unisi.it

9th December, 5.00 – 7.00 p.m. (CET)

Book Launch. Meeting the Author:
Katharina Pistor, Ph.D.,
Edwin B. Parker Professor of Comparative Law, Columbia Law School

How about fintech applications in the EU regulatory framework? The European Commission has recently issued a communication on digital market and crypto-assets, but there is a long way ahead.

19th November, 11.00 a.m.–1.00 p.m. (CET)

Blockchain technology: principles and applications

Marc Pilkington, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Economics, Bourgogne University

20th November, 11.00 a.m. – 1.00 p.m. (CET)

Stablecoins in Cryptoeconomics. From Initial Coin Offerings (ICOs) to Central Bank Digital Currencies (CBDCs)

Marco Dell’Erba, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Financial Markets and Corporate Law, University of Zurich

20th November, 3.00 – 5.00 p.m. (CET)

ECB and Central Bank Digital Currencies: a change of heart?

Marta Božina Beroš, Ph.D., Associate Professor of European Financial Regulation and EMU Governance, Faculty of Economics, Juraj Dobrila University of Pula

27th November, 11.00 a.m.– 1.00 p.m. (CET)

Blockchain Antitrust: the Example of Facebook's Libra

Thibault Schrepel, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Antitrust Law and Innovation, Utrecht Law School and Faculty Affiliate at Stanford University's CodeX Center

4th December, 11.00 a.m.– 1.00 p.m. (CET)

Cross-border payment transactions: when the academic research meets the market experience

Ruth Wandhöfer, Ph.D., Partner Gauss Ventures, I-NED Permanent TSB/Gresham Technologies/Digital Identity Net, Adviser ETPPA/RTGS.global, Co-Founder Sinonyx

With the support of the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union

The EUMOL Winter School will focus also on PSD2. Thanks to the Payment Services Directives, the provision of payment services is a regulated activity throughout the Union; the Europeans enjoy basically the same level of information and contract rights and obligations; the value chain for payment services follows an "open data" model. Can the PSD2 support financial inclusion? Can the PSD2 embrace or strangle digital change?

Looking forward to The Payment Services Directive II: A Commentary, Elgar Commentary Series (forthcoming), edited by Gabriella Gimigliano and Marta Božina Beroš, three web-roundtables with some of the Commentary Contributors.

The webinars are open to the general public and the registration is free of charges. Please, send an email to gabriella.gimigliano@unisi.it

3 December, 11.00 a.m. -1.00 p.m. (CET)

PSD2 in Croatia, Estonia and Finland

PANELLISTS

Ivana Parać Vukomanović, Director of the Financial and Supervisory Law Department, Croatian National Bank

Nikita Divissenko, Ph.D. candidate, Law Department of the European University Institute (EUI), Florence (Italy)

Jyri Terämaa, Ph.D. candidate, University of Helsinki

11 December, 11.00 a.m. -1.00 p.m. (CET)

PSD2 in Austria, Czech Republic and Germany

PANELLISTS

Martin Miernicki, Ph.D., Research and Teaching Fellow, Institute of Business Law at the University of Vienna

Petr Kotab, Ph.D., Assistant Professor, Faculty of Law, Charles University in Prague,

Christian Conreder, Ph.D., Attorney, Rödl & Partner

17 December, 11.00 a.m. -1.00 p.m. (CET)

PSD2 in Greece, Spain and The United Kingdom

PANELLISTS

Christos Gortsos, Ph.D. Professor of Public Economic Law, Law School, National Kapodistrian University of Athens

Fernando Zunzunegui, Ph.D, Assistant Professor of Financial Markets Law, Carlos III University of Madrid, and Independent Lawyer

Daniele D'Alvia, Ph.D., Teaching Fellow, Centre for Commercial Law Studies, Queen Mary University of London

With the support of the Erasmus+ Programme
of the European Union

The webinars are open to the general public and the registration is free of charges. Please, send an email to gabriella.gimigliano@unisi.it